INDEX TO VOL. LXXI

The titles of articles are printed in italics

ADM

ADMIRALTY Administration, Recent Changes in, 201–216
Aërial locomotion, 75–85
Africa, East, difficulties of white settlement in, 312–331
Africa, Portuguese colonies, 497–510
Africa, Senussi confraternity and war in Tripoli, 1216–1229
Agadir, The Aftermath of: Suggestions for a Settlement of Territorial Ambitions, 191–200
Agricultural England and the rural exodus, 174–190
Aischro-Latreia—the Cult of the Foul, 332–340; reply to, 547–556
America and Scotch-Irish immigrants, 1121–1133
Anglican Churches in England and Australasia, connexion between the Church and the State, 1089–1097
Anglo-German alliance, English Radical advocacy of, 589–598
Anglo-German relations and territorial expansion, 191–200
Anglo-Russian Agreement and the independence of Persia, 40–47
Arctic research, England's backwardness in, 756–766
Army, National, The Working Classes and a, 86–97
Army officers, their financial position, 706–718
Army, Oxford and the, 1164–1175
Art collections, Our, and American competitors, 24–39
Art, French and English, Salon and Academy, 1202–1215
Art, The terrible and the pitiful in, 547–556
Arts, State recognition and encouragement of the, 557–567
Atlantic cables and Imperial wireless scheme, 1076–1088
Australian Experiences, Some, of the Organisation of a Disestablished Church, 1089–1097

CAN

BARKER (J. Ellis), The Failure of Post-Bismarckian Germany, 1059–1075
Barrett (Elizabeth) and the love story of the Brownings, 976–988
Beaumont, Pauline de, 1147–1163
Bellairs (Commander Carlyon), A New Imperial Preference Scheme, 385–400
Bengal, Calcutta, and changes in Indian Government, 48–57
Biology, hereditary transmission of variations, 511–531
Bird Flight, The Solution of the Mystery of, 75–85
Birmingham, Bishop of, and Anglican Socialists, 1029–1045
Bismarck's policy and modern Prusso-Germany, 1059–1075
Blake (Lady), The Triad Society and the Restoration of the Ming Dynasty, 667–687
Bland (J. O. P.), The Yellow Peril, 1017–1028
Bradley (A. G.), The Ulster Scot in the United States, 1121–1133
Brain centres and psychical mechanism in education, 945–965
Braine (Capt. H. E.), The Sword and the Lance versus the Rifle, 966–975
Bright (Charles), Cables versus Wireless Telegraphy, 1076–1088
British East African Problems, Some, 312–331
British Navy and our defenceless mercantile marine, 795–803
British Polar Research, The Control of, 756–766
Browning (Robert): born May 7th, 1812, 976–988
Buddhists and Moslems, An Approach between, 657–666
Buxton (Noel), Diplomacy and Parliament, 632–642

CABLES versus Wireless Telegraphy, 1076–1088
Canada and British immigrants, 112-132

CAN

Canada and the Navy: a Canadian View, 821–828
Carlyle (Thomas) and peace-at-any-price policy, 795–803
Carman (Albert R.), Canada and the Navy: a Canadian View, 821–828
Castberg (J.), The Legal Position of Women in Norway, 364–377
Catholic Layman, A, 741–755
Celibacy, The Church and, 165–173; replies to, 303–311
Centenary of Charles Dickens's birth, 274–284
Chaperon, The Passing of the, 582–588
Chateaubriand, French Society life in days of, 1147–1163
Childers (Erskine), The Real Issue in Ireland, 643–656; a rejoinder to, 849–852
China and Islam, Fraternisation between, 657–666
Chinese Ming dynasty, Triad Society and struggle for restoration of the, 667–687
Chinese revolution and the Western world, 1017–1028
Christian beliefs, Milton's influence on, 901–918
Church, The, and Celibacy, 165–173; replies to, 303–311
Church of England and Oxford Movement, 133–147, 341–356, 532–546
Churchill (Mr.) and Naval War Staff, 201–216
Città Eterna, La: a Reminiscence of the 'Seventies, 466–482
Clarke (Rev. A. H. T.), The Passing of the Oxford Movement, 133–147; 341–356; reply to, 532–546
Clergy, The, and Disestablishment, 868–880, 1098–1106
Clergy, The, and Celibacy, 165–173, 303–311
Coal Crisis, The, 378–384
Coal miners' strike, Socialist tyranny, and the nation's industries, 401–410, 609–622
Coal Strike, The—and After, 623–631
Coleridge (Hon. Gilbert), An Old Boy's Impression of the Fourth of June at Eton, 1192–1201
Congested Districts Board, benefits to Ireland, 267–273
Coulton (G. G.), 'The Church and Celibacy': Reply to Mrs. Huth Jackson, 307–311
Cox (Harold), Holding a Nation to Ransom, 401–410
Crammond (Edgar), England's Economic Position and her Financial Relations with Scotland and Ireland, 411–434; The Third Edition of Home Rule: Ireland's Economic Development, 849–852

FIG

Crystal Palace, The: a Reminiscence and a Suggestion, 1176–1184
Custance (Admiral Sir Reginald), The Naval Case for Ratifying the Declaration of London, 435–444

DAVIDSON (George L. O.), The Solution of the Mystery of Bird Flight, 75–85
Declaration of London, Naval Case for Ratifying the, 435–444
Delhi as the new capital of India, 48–57
Depopulation, Rural, in England during the Nineteenth Century, 174–190
Dickens (Charles): February 7th, 1812–1912, 274–284
Dimnet (Abbé Ernest), Is M. Maeterlinck critically estimated? 98–111
Diplomacy and Parliament, 632–642
Disestablishment of the Church in Wales, 1089–1106
Disestablishment, The Clergy and, 1098–1106
Disestablishment, Why some of the Clergy will welcome, 868–880
Duff (Lady Grant), The Action of Women in the French Revolution, 1009–1016

EDUCATION and character-training at Public Schools, 568–581
Education, A Physiological Basis for, 945–965
Educational endowments, and returnable scholarships, 1185–1191
Emancipation of women in Norway, legal and political, 364–377
Emigration, Britain's neglected advantages, 483–496
Emigration to Canada, an Imperial problem, 112–132
England's Economic Position and her Financial Relations with Scotland and Ireland, 411–434
English Radicals and Foreign Politics, 589–598
Established Churches and Disestablishment, 868–880, 1089–1106
Eton, The Fourth of June at: an Old Boy's Impression of, 1192–1201
Evolution and heredity, influence of environment, 511–531
Exhibition of 1851 in Hyde Park, the Crystal Palace, 1176–1184

FEDERAL Home Rule and apportionment of taxation, 411–434
Federalism, Home Rule and, 1230–1242
Feeble-minded Children, The Treatment of, 930–944
Feminism in France during the Reign of Terror, 1009–1016
Figgis (Darrell), Charles Dickens: February 7th, 1812–1912, 274–284

FIN

Financial relations of England with Ireland and Scotland, 411–434
Fine Arts: Wanted, a Ministry of, 557–567
Firearms, swords, and lances, 966–975
Foreign affairs, the function of Parliament, 632–642
Foreign Policy, Eleven Years of, 217–232
Foreign Politics, English Radicals and, 589–598
Foul, The Cult of the—Aischro-Latreia, 332–340; reply to, 547–556
Fourth of June celebrations at Eton, 1192–1201
Franco-German Crisis of 1911, The Truth about the, 1046–1058
Franco-German negotiations concerning Morocco, 233–251
Fraser (Sir Andrew), The Changes in India, 48–57; Sectarian Universities in India, 719–729
French Art and the Grafton Exhibition, 285–302
French Revolution, The Action of Women in the, 1009–1016
French Society in time of Chateaubriand, 1147–1163
Frodsham (Dr. G. H., Bishop of North Queensland), Some Australian Experiences of the Organisation of a Disestablished Church, 1089–1097
Funk, The Rule of, 853–867

GAMBLE (Rev. H. R.), 'The Church and Celibacy': a Reply to Mrs. Huth Jackson, 303–306
Game preserves and native reserves in East Africa, 312–331
Gay (H. Nelson), Fifty Years of Italian Independence: from Naples to Tripoli, 148–164
Gerard (Dorothea), see Longard de Longgarde (Mme.).
German alliance, French Entente, and English Radical policy, 589–598
German influence on the English stage, 783–784
German Fiction, Recent, 881–900
German territorial aspirations, how they might be satisfied, 191–200
Germany, France, Morocco, and our foreign policy, 217–232, 233–251, 1046–1058
Germany, Post-Bismarckian, The Failure of, 1059–1075
Gillet (Dr. J. E.), A Forgotten German Creditor of the English Stage, 783–794
Girls, Modern, flirtation and marriage, 582–588
Gladstone (W. E.), his translation of Horace criticised, 1107–1120
Goldman (C. S.), Eleven Years of Foreign Policy, 217–232

IND

Graham (P. Anderson), Is Home Rule for the Good of Ireland? 267–273
Gribble (Francis), Robert Browning: born May 7th, 1812, 976–988
Grosvenor (Hon. Mrs. Algernon), A Catholic Layman, 741–755

HAMILTON-HOARE (H. W.), Horace and the Social Life of Rome, 688–705
Handel's oratorios and modern musical fashions, 767–782, 1000–1008
Harrison (Alfred H.), The Control of British Polar Research, 756–766
Harrison (Frederic), Aischro-Latreia—the Cult of the Foul, 332–340
Harrison (Mr. Frederic), 'Ugliness,' 'Beauty,' and, 547–556
Hartog (Prof. Marcus), Scholarships or Millstones? 1185–1191
Hawkes (Arthur), The Imperial Emigrant and his Political Religion, 112–132
Heredity and variations, 511–531
Hewlett (William), Oratorio versus Opera: a Reply to Mr. Statham, 1000–1008
Hindoos, How King George could win the Hearts of the, 58–74
Hindu and Mohammedan Universities, 719–729
Home defence, compulsory training, and the Labour party, 86–97
Home defence, our national insecurity, 795–803
Home Rule and Federalism, 1230–1242
Home Rule and Irish finances, 1–23
Home Rule and Irish Unionists, 252–266
Home Rule Bill, The Third Edition of, 829–852
Home Rule in Ireland, and fiscal autonomy, 643–656
Home Rule, Is it for the Good of Ireland, 267–273
Horace and the Social Life of Rome, 688–705, 1028
Horace, Metrical Versions of the Odes of, 1107–1120
Hung League and Chinese secret societies, 667–687

IMPERIAL defence, Canada's naval contribution, 821–828
Imperial Emigrant, The, and his Political Religion, 112–132
Imperial Preference, and Royal Commission on Trade, 919–929
Imperial Preference Scheme, A New, 385–400
India and the Royal Commission on Imperial Trade, 919–929
India, Sectarian Universities in, 719–729

IND

India, The Changes in, 48–57
India's grievances, cow-killing and Western education, 58–74
Inheritance of Acquired Characters, 511–531
Insecurity, Our National, The Cause of, 795–803
International Prize Courts and capture of merchant ships, 435–444
Ireland, Home Rule and Federalism, 1230–1242
Ireland, Is Home Rule for the Good of? 267–273
Ireland, Justice to, 252–266
Ireland, The Real Issue in, 643–656
Ireland's progress under the Union, 849–852
Irish agriculture and rival land policies, 1134–1146
Irish Government, The Finance of: a Retrospect and a Prospect, 1–23
Irish Home Rule, alternative schemes, 829–848
Italian Independence, Fifty Years of: from Naples to Tripoli, 148–164
Italy, Tripoli, and Senussi confraternity, 1216–1229

JACKSON (Mrs. Huth), The Church and Celibacy, 165–173
Jeffreys (Major-General H. B.), The Working Classes and a National Army, 86–97
Johnston (Sir Harry H.), The Aftermath of Agadir: Suggestions for a Settlement of Territorial Ambitions, 191–200; The Portuguese Colonies, 497–510
Justice to Ireland, 252–266

KING GEORGE, How he could Win the Hearts of the Hindoos, 58–74
Kingston (Gertrude), Wanted: a Ministry of Fine Arts, 557–567
Konstam (E. M.), The Next Attack upon the Land, 989–999
Kotzebue's influence on English playwrights, 783–794
Kropotkin (Prince), Inheritance of Acquired Characters, 511–531

LABOUR Unrest as a Subject of Official Investigation, 1029–1045
Lagden (Sir Godfrey), Our Public Schools and their Influences, 568–581
Lance, sword, and rifle, 966–975
Land Policies, Rival, 1134–1146
Land, The Next Attack upon the, 989–999
Lathbury (D. C.), English Radicals and Foreign Politics, 589–598
Latin lyrical poetry, Horace and his translators, 1107–1120

MIL

Lethbridge (Sir Roper), India and the Royal Commission on Imperial Trade, 919–929
Liberal Party, Woman Suffrage and the, 599–608
Liddon (Dr.) and the Oxford Movement, 133–147, 341–356
Lilly (W. S.), Cardinal Newman and the Catholic Laity, 445–465; The Rule of Funk, 853–867
Lincolnshire (Marquess of), Rival Land Policies, 1134–1146
Liquor laws and the ideal public-house, 730–740
Literature, The Nobel prize for, 98–111
'Littler' England? A, 483–496
Loathsomeness in Art, the new craze, 332–340
Longard de Longgarde (Mme.), Recent German Fiction, 881–900

MACCOLL (D. S.), The National Gallery: its Problems, Resources, and Administration, 24–39; A Year of Post-Impressionism, 285–302; 'Ugliness,' 'Beauty,' and Mr. Frederic Harrison, 547–556
MacDonnell of Swinford (Lord), The Finance of Irish Government: a Retrospect and a Prospect, 1–23
Macnamara (N. C.), A Physiological Basis for Education, 945–965
Mæcenas and Roman society in the days of Horace, 688–705
Maeterlinck (M.), Is he critically estimated? 98–111
Malcolm (Ian), Justice to Ireland, 252–266
Mallet (Charles E.), Woman Suffrage and the Liberal Party, 599–608
Mallock (W. H.), Socialistic Ideas and Practical Politics, 804–820; Labour Unrest as a Subject of Official Investigation, 1029–1045
Manchu Emperors and Chinese native dynasties, 667–687
March-Phillipps (Evelyn), The Treatment of Feeble-minded Children, 930–944
Marconi Company, General Post Office, cables and wireless telegraphy, 1076–1088
Married clergy and celibate priests, 165–173, 303–311
Marriott (J. A. R.), The Third Edition of Home Rule: a First Impression of the Bill, 829–848
Mentally deficient children, treatment of, 930–944
Metrical Versions of the Odes of Horace, 1107–1120
Mill (Mrs. John Stuart): a Vindication by her Granddaughter, 357–363

MIL

Millet (Philippe), The Truth about the Franco-German Crisis of 1911, 1046–1058
Milton, The Theology of, 901–918
Miners, colliery owners, and coal-consumers, 378–384
Ming Dynasty, The Triad Society and the Restoration of the, 667–687
Money (L. G. Chiozza), A 'Littler' England? 483–496
Morel (E. D.), The True Story of the Morocco Negotiations, 233–251; criticised, 1046–1058
Morgan (J. H.), Home Rule and Federalism, 1230–1242
Morocco, France, and Germany, 233–251, 1046–1058
Morrell (Philip), Our Persian Policy, 40–47
Moslems and Buddhists, An Approach between, 657–666
Musical taste, opera and oratorio, 767–782, 1000–1008

NATION to Ransom, Holding a, 401–410
National Army, The Working Classes and a, 86–97
National Gallery, The: its Problems, Resources, and Administration, 24–39
National Insecurity, The Cause of our, 795–803
National valuation of land and the new taxation, 989–999
Naval War Staff and the Admiralty, 201–216
Naval warfare and the Declaration of London, 435–444
Newman (Cardinal) and the Catholic Laity, 445–465
Nobel prize for literature, awarded to M. Maeterlinck, 98–111
North Queensland (Bishop of) on connexion between Church and State in Australasia, 1089–1097
Norway, The Legal Position of Women in, 364–377

OFFICERS' Training Corps and Universities, 1164–1175
Oratorio versus Opera, 767–782; a reply to, 1000–1008
Oxford and the Army, 1164–1175
Oxford Mission and Cardinal Newman, 445–465, 741–755
Oxford Movement, The Future of the, 532–546
Oxford Movement, The Passing of the, 133–147, 341–356

PAGET (Lady), La Città Eterna: a Reminiscence of the 'Seventies, 466–482; The Crystal Palace: a Reminiscence and a Suggestion, 1176–1184

SCO

Parliament, Diplomacy and, 632–642
Parliamentary franchise, votes for women, and Cabinet differences, 599–608
Persian Policy, Our, 40–47
Philosophical works of M. Maeterlinck, 98–111
Physiological Basis for Education, A, 945–965
Polar Research, British, The Control of, 756–766
Portuguese Colonies, The, 497–510
Post-Bismarckian Germany, The Failure of, 1059–1075
Post-Impressionism, A Year of, 285–302
Poverty, Causes of its increase, 1029–1045
Powell (Rev. Francis E.), Why some of the Clergy will welcome Disestablishment, 868–880; reply to, 1098–1106
Preference and cheap transport within the Empire, 385–400
Prince Consort, Queen Victoria, and Exhibition of 1851, 1176–1184
Prussia, Bismarck, and modern Germany, 1059–1075
Public Schools, Our, and their Influences, 568–581

RENWICK (W. H.), The Coal Crisis, 378–384
Rifle, The Sword and the Lance versus the, 966–975
Rodin and tragic sculpture, 332–340, 547–556
Roman Catholic Church and Cardinal Newman, 445–465, 741–755
Rome, King Victor Emmanuel, and King Humbert, 466–482
Rome, Social Life of, Horace and the, 688–705
Rousseau and John Stuart Mill, 357–377
Roxby (Percy M.), Rural Depopulation in England during the Nineteenth Century, 174–190
Royal Academy, At the Salon and the, 1202–1215
Royal Commission on Imperial Trade, India and the, 919–929
Royal Geographical Society and Arctic research, 756–766
Russia, Persia, and British policy, 40–47

SALON and the Royal Academy, At the, 1202–1215
Scholarships or Millstones? 1185–1191
Schools, Public, and their influences, 568–581
Scot, The Ulster, in the United States, 1121–1133

SEC

Sectarian Universities in India, 719–729
Selwyn (Rev. E. G.), The Future of the Oxford Movement, 532–546
Senussi, The, and the Military Issue in Tripoli, 1216–1229
Seton-Karr (Sir Henry), Some British East African Problems, 312–331; 'We are the Government now,' 609–622
Sichel (Edith), Pauline de Beaumont, 1147–1163
Simeon (Sir John), Dr. Newman, and the Catholic Mission at Oxford, 741–755
Slessor (Capt. A. K.), Oxford and the Army, 1164–1175
Smith (F. E.), The True Lines of Temperance Reform, 730–740
Socialism and cause of increase in poverty, 1029–1045
Socialism, Syndicalism, trade unions, and strikes, 609–622, 623–631, 853–867
Socialistic Ideas and Practical Politics, 804–820
Socialists and national defence, 86–97
Stage, English, A Forgotten German Creditor of the, 783–794
Statham (H. Heathcote), Oratorio versus Opera, 767–782
Statham (H. Heathcote), At the Salon and the Royal Academy, 1202–1215
Strikes, Recent, and syndicalist trade-unionism, 401–410
Submerged Subaltern, The, 706–718
Swâmi Bâbâ Bhârati, How King George could win the Hearts of the Hindoos, 58–74
Sword, The, and the Lance versus the Rifle, 966–975

TAYLOR (Mary), Mrs. John Stuart Mill; a Vindication by her Granddaughter, 357–363
Temperance Reform, The True Lines of, 730–740
Tractarians and Church of England doctrine, 133–147, 341–356
Transport preferences, reduction of freights, and cheaper food, 385–400
Triad Society, The, and the Restoration of the Ming Dynasty, 667–687
Tripoli and Italian emigration, 160–164
Tripoli, The Senussi and the Military Issue in, 1216–1229
Trotter (Major-Gen. J. K.), The Submerged Subaltern, 706–718

YEL

Turkey, English Radical attitude towards, 589–590
Tyrrell (Dr. R. Y.), Metrical Versions of the Odes of Horace, 1107–1120

UGANDA and East African game preserves, 312–331
'Ugliness,' 'Beauty,' and Mr. Frederic Harrison, 547–556
Ulster Scot in the United States, 1121–1133
United States, Federalism, and Irish Home Rule, 1230–1242
Universities and Officers' Training Corps, 1164–1175
Universities in India, 719–729

VAMBERY (Prof. A.), An Approach between Moslems and Buddhists, 657–666
Victor Emmanuel and Italian unity, 148–164

WALKER (George Blake), The Coal Strike—and after, 623–642
Ward (Mr. Wilfrid), his life of Cardinal Newman, 445–465
'We are the Government now,' 609–622
Wealth and poverty, Socialist fallacies, 804–820
Welldon (Bishop), The Theology of Milton, 901–918
Welsh Disestablishment: Some Australian Experiences of the Organisation of a Disestablished Church; The Clergy and Disestablishment, 1089–1106
White (A. Silva), The Senussi and the Military Issue in Tripoli, 1216–1229
White (Sir William H.), Recent Changes in Admiralty Administration, 201–216
Wilson (Hon. Mrs.), The Passing of the Chaperon, 582–588
Wireless Telegraphy, Cables versus, 1076–1088
Woman Suffrage and the Liberal Party, 599–608
Women in Norway, The Legal Position of, 364–377
Women, The Action of, in the French Revolution, 1009–1016
Working Classes, The, and a National Army, 86–97
Wyatt (Harold F.), The Cause of our National Insecurity, 795–803

YELLOW Peril, The, 1017–1028

PRINTED BY
SPOTTISWOODE AND CO. LTD., LONDON
COLCHESTER AND ETON